THE VOLTS

The day began like every other ordinary day, but my two best friends and I will become the most powerful heroes in the world! We've been friends for as long as they can remember. I'm Mackenzie. I'm the quiet one. Theo is the funny one. Grace is the super girly one. We are always together. I know you do not want to read about school, so I'll start about 30 minutes before we get our powers.

"I... I don't think we should go, I stuttered. "Come on M, you never want to go anywhere. We have to go out tonight! It's going to be the best party of the year! So, man, up and come on!" Grace demanded. I was going to stand up but didn't. The party was across town, so we rode our bikes. The second we started riding it started to pour. "We...we should turn back," I again stuttered. "Come on, Mack" Theo moaned. " LIGHTNING!!!" We all screamed! KAZAP! As soon as it happened it ended. I felt energy in my veins, something wasn't quite right." Um...what just happened?" Theo questioned. As I leaned on Theo the energy went through me through Theo and Grace blocked it." Okay, so I just shot electricity from my hands, and it went through Theo and Grace blocked it with a bubble thing," I questioned "So, are we like superheroes?" Theo asked. "Yes, no, yes, no, yes?" Grace puzzled. "NO WAY!" I screamed. "What!?! I can't believe you would not want to jump at the chance to- "Hold your breath, Grace... Cape or cape?" I told them.

"I'm thinking cape for you and only you Pink for me blue for Theo and purple for you I'm so excited!" Grace screamed. As we rode home, we scheduled to meet at my house after school. The school day was insane, we couldn't control our powers! As soon as we got home, we ran inside and got to work. "There are three things we need to do costumes, names, group and individual, and a villain," Theo explained. "What are you talking about!" I asked. "Don't you watch movies? You should really stop reading!" Theo sarcastically said. (I think.) Theo sat down and turned the T.V. on. "Evil master mind going by the name of wires," the Reporter said." Hey turn that up," I demanded." Who will save us?" When I heard those words, I knew this was our chance to make a difference. "Guys lets g-" I started." Okay guys put this on, no questions, and grab your bikes. NOW!" Grace interrupted." How did you-" I began. "NOW!" Grace screamed. We arrived at the top of the tallest building in the city. "Soon I will be able to control all the machines in the world, MWHHAAAAAAAAAAAA!

ZAP!!! We defeated him and turned him into the authorities, and it turns out he was Victor. After that we fought crime, hung out, and stuck together. I'm Mackenzie. Well, most people call me Eletric the leader of the VOLTS! Theo: Transform, Grace:

Insulators they always lighten up the mood. LET'S FLIP THE SWITCH!
