

Electricity Hero Saves The Day

By Neri Hilgart

One day in Dc a young girl was packing to go to Texas. Her name was Lily. Lily loves fashion and dresses. She packed blue dresses, white dresses, purple dresses, and five pink dresses. She loved the color pink.

"Lily we are loading up. Get your luggage and get in." her mom yells to her.

"Coming mommy," Lily answers, running into the car with her long blond hair bouncing with every step.

Four hours later the car stops and all the family can see is the moon shining. The power was out. No electricity. The family got out of their car and looked up. All of the power lines had gone down. What could they do?

" Mommy, I'm scared. What can we do?" four year old Lily says. Then she looks up into the sky and sees a man flying down with electric hands.

"How will we get to Texas with no electricity?" Lily's dad asks

"How will we live? We die without electricity." Lily's mom asks and then her face changes to a look of terror. Everyone is so scared and everyone looks scared. Will they live?

The man lands and says " I am Electricity Man. God of electricity."

" Are you going to save us?" Lily's parents ask.

"Oh yes but I need the electricity gem so I can use my powers. You, little girl, will have to go to the enchanted mountains to get the stone." Mister Electricity says.

"We won't let you go Lily. you are too young." Lily's dad says.

"It is the only way you will live. You will die if you don't have electricity. You have to let her. She is the only one that can do it. Now go little girl," Mister Electricity calls. So Lily goes on her journey. She travels the mountains in search of the gem. After fifty minutes she finds it glistening in the darkness, the only thing she could see. She grabbed it. it was like the entire world just changed. The world was light again. She rushed back to her parents.

"You did it girl," Lily's parents said with joy all over their faces.

"You did it. Now I know we have the best electricity ever." Mister Electricity said.

"Now let's get to Texas to eat, drink, get a hotel, and even go shopping." the parents said to Lily.

Then everyone in the family got in the car to go to Texas. The best thing is they all lived happily ever after.
